

Apple Solution Day for Small and Medium Enterprises

It has never been easier - or more cost effective - to modernize your business. Join Apple and Hong Kong Science and Technology Parks Corporation (HKSTP) to learn about powerful new iOS and macOS solutions, and how the Technology Voucher Programme can help you cover part of the cost.

And for technology companies, learn about how you can collaborate with Apple to open new opportunities for your business.

Companies everywhere are modernizing the way they do business with new iOS and macOS solutions which automate time-consuming tasks, increase efficiency and improve customer experience. And through the Technology Voucher Programme, qualifying companies can recover much of the cost of new technology. Join Apple and Hong Kong Science and Technology Park on Wednesday, March 22, 2017, to learn about powerful new iOS and macOS solutions for SMEs across a wide range of industries.

If you are a technology company, join us to learn about the iOS in Business Program, and how you can work with Apple to introduce your solutions to new enterprise customers.
